

Paula Moreno

Tuesday, April 24, 2018

6:00 PM Hesburgh Center Auditorium

"Challenges and Opportunities for the African Diaspora in Colombia and Beyond"

She served from 2007 to 2010 as the Minister of Culture in Colombia—the first Afro-Colombian woman and the youngest person to lead a cabinet-level ministry in the history of the country. Moreno founded and directs Manos Visibles, a non-profit foundation established to promote social inclusion and peace building in Colombia. She has been a member of the Ford Foundation Board of Trustees since 2014.

Sponsored by the Departments of: Africana Studies, English, Political Science & the Kellogg Institute for International Studies